

Hello Mr. Holliday,

Please excuse the length of this "answer." I have endeavored to keep it as brief as possible.

From the very beginning, we have been doing our Father's business. Every move has been orchestrated by YAHWEH (i.e., the name of the Creator). We have not really been guilty of any of the assorted accusations brought against us, though technically, we are currently "guilty" of trademark infringement as presently interpreted by the Court.

A Creation Seventh Day Adventist must obey the Father in Heaven. We must evangelize; we must witness to our faith and testify of who we are--Creation Seventh Day Adventists; we must seek to save the lost; we must heal the sick and relieve the suffering, oppressed, and broken-hearted; we must spread our message to the "four corners of the earth" via every venue we can find. Our efforts are NOT a blatant disregard of the District Court's order(s), though it has been and will be construed in that way. It is the unregenerate mind that oppresses the conscience of God's little children, and those poor souls often "know not what they do." We forgive them, for they are blind to their errors.

Somewhere in the legal record you wrote about the Bible account where the apostles said, "We ought to obey God rather than men." This is where we are today--obeying YAHWEH rather than men. We are not sorry for our actions, for they are prompted by the Spirit of the Living God, borne from a conscience sealed to comply with divine duty. We would rather die than sin. And, sin no more has dominion over us.

Please accept my personal apology for your having to deal with this most shameful and unpleasant controversy. I am truly sorry for any and all inconvenience you might have suffered on our part. It is an abomination to God that such a conflict should have ever been brought before the civil magistrates. Judge King (see the Perez case) would certainly agree with me.

You have done all you can do to fulfill your duty respecting a code of ethics for lawyers. You have appealed to me/us to abide by the Court's order(s). You have not in any way countenanced or supported our civil disobedience. You have consistently required that we comply with every stipulation of the District Court. We forgive you for this, as you are not a member of the Creation Seventh Day Adventist Church. But, for a Creation 7th Day Adventist to comply with this particular injunction, would be unconscionable and tantamount to spiritual suicide. Few souls in this present world have any idea of what being "true as steel to righteous principle" means. The Bible has taught CSDAs that compromise with evil is not an option.

Finally, in my humble opinion, Mr Galanter has erred somewhat in his selection of websites that are now called into question, unless he is purposely seeking to initiate an inquisition cleansing the Internet of any reference to Walter McGill, Pastor "Chick" McGill or general journalism covering the lawsuit and/or differences between the General Conference SDAs and the CSDAs. An insightful investigation will show that the majority of the websites listed appear to be out of the jurisdiction of the District Court, and thus, outside of the boundaries of the District Court injunction. If Mr. Galanter will kindly draft a list of websites that fall within the jurisdiction of the United States injunction, specifying exactly what is violative about each website, then we can ask our Father what we might do to satisfy his demands. I think this is a reasonable request on my part.

Let it be well understood that Creation Seventh Day Adventists around the world will be continuing their Divinely appointed tasks. As I have posted on my personal home page, "With Thomas Jefferson, 'I,' Walter "Chick" McGill, 'have sworn on the altar of God Eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man.' In so doing, I will not discourage any member or friend of the CSDA Church from obeying their Master, exercising a conscience undefiled. We have no "presidents," "popes," or "visible heads" that dictate what each person might do. As I said at the top, YAHWEH is the One who orchestrates our work around the world. He is ultimately the Person on trial in this conflict.

I wish to finalize this, my "answer," with a quote from the renowned and "disobedient" reformer, Martin Luther. In the Diet, April 18, 1522, to the Emperor, to the papacy, to the Diet itself, to all Germany, to Europe, and to the world, Luther had given his "answer." That answer, as summed up by Luther himself, after having spoken two hours, stands as follows:

"Since your most serene majesty, and your high mightinesses, call upon me for a simple, clear, and definite answer, I will give it. And it is this: I cannot subject my faith either to the Pope or to Councils; because it is clear as day, that they have often fallen into error, and even into great self-contradiction. If, then, I am not disproved by passages of Scripture, or by clear arguments, -- if I am not convinced by the very passages which I have quoted, and so bound in conscience to submit to the Word of God, I neither can nor will retract anything. For it is not safe for a Christian to speak against his conscience. Here I stand. I cannot do otherwise. God help me. Amen."

I have obviously copied this email to Mr. Galanter. I hope I have not violated some other law by this action. My purpose has been to make my/our position crystal clear and with due respect for all parties concerned. Please forgive me if I have erred.

With peace that surpasses all understanding, and with a heart to keep the Sabbath in spirit and letter, I am

Praying for my enemies, both perceived and declared,
Pastor "Chick" McGill
